To Whom It May Concern:

Last year the Platt Brothers performed in our Artown Festival to a crowd of well over 1,000 people. They were fantastic! From the moment they walked on stage, the audience, and I, were captivated by their humor and showmanship. They are a dynamic combination of dance, acrobatics, popular music, slapstick, and martial arts, and their energy on stage kept the audience in continuous laughter throughout the performance.

The Platt Brothers have a humor that appeals to all ages. I was particularly impressed by their ability to entertain very difficult to entertain age groups. Their humor is able to reach children who often refuse to be entertained and get them involved in the performance and activities.

As the Festival Manager for Artown during the festival, I saw the production end of their performance and can say that their planning of the event went very smoothly from beginning to end. They are a pleasure to work with and are highly polished in their production, marketing, and performance. We would love to have them back in our festival, and I'm sure audiences are enjoying them wherever they go.

Sincerely,

Prudence Wildman
